

Call To Action

A Special Invitation to Florida's STEM Stakeholders!

Join FloridaLearns STEM Scholars' campaign to help "STEM" Florida by signing the "Declaration of INTERdependence", a joint effort of STEMflorida, Inc. and FloridaLearns STEM Scholars, to align Florida's efforts to improve student achievement in all STEM areas—science, technology, engineering and math.

"The shortage of STEM-qualified students puts a tremendous burden on the economic development process, because it limits what you have to offer in conversations with prospective employers."

Dale Brill, of the Florida Chamber Foundation and FloridaLearns STEM Scholars Statewide Advisory Board Member

The purpose of the Declaration of INTERdependence is to confirm support for a unified, statewide effort to promote STEM talent development among:

- Targeted business, industry and military-related sector employers
- Education and training institutions, public and private
- Economic development, workforce development, local and statewide chambers of commerce, target industry and education associations and all other public stakeholders, including parents, grandparents, educators and community organizations who are concerned for Florida's economic future.

Read "Declaration of Interdependence," an education article published in the April-May 2011 edition of 850 Business Magazine for more information about this joint effort to promote collaboration across all areas of Florida's STEM stakeholders to create higher-skill, higher wage jobs for Florida's future.

Click Here to View Article

See Florida's charter STEM stakeholders--businesses, education and training institutions, economic development organizations, workforce boards, chambers of commerce and other organizations and individuals--- that came together to help launch the "STEMMING Florida" movement through STEMflorida. Won't you join the effort? Simply sign the Declaration of InterDependence and help us continue the statewide effort to transform Florida's economic future.

Click Here to View Florida's Charter List of the STEMflorida Declaration of Interdependence Signers.